IN HOME CATERING

After your call, my first step is to personally visit the location of your event. Whether it is your castle, poolside, barn side, or your backyard deck, I need to see your vision to manifest it.

From this point, I can stage placements of food, beverages, desserts, and programs. I will examine every detail of your affair if I am handling it or not.

Every event is unique with its own requirements; during our location visit I can establish these. To maximize effect you may wish extra wait staff, tents, or Mimosa and chocolate fountains. Your occasion may call for food served on hay wagons with checkered aprons, or full china with white glove service. Whether you are creating or celebrating traditions, I can direct you on all props like carriages, limo services, venues, and décor.

After our initial meeting I will furnish you with a detailed time-line of your production starting with arrival times of all food, requested props, serving times, and clean-up and departure.

From five guests to over five hundred, I can successfully create your concept. If it's an intimate formal dinner for your boss, a retirement celebration, a memorial, or a wedding service in a field of wild daisies, together we will capture your aspiration.

Life doesn't allow do-overs. These remembrances are too precious to mis-handle. Since 1965 Patty's Catering Service has been protecting the moments held in the hearts of our customers eternally. We would be honored to produce yours.
